William Carter

My Post-Grad Journey:
After graduation I was drafted into the U.S. Army and served over a year in Vietnam. After discharge, I worked for Catholic Relief Services (CRS) first in the newly-established country of Bangladesh and later Morocco. In 1976, I received my MBA and soon after joined the career U.S. Foreign Service. My various assignments had me serving in Haiti, Ghana, The Philippines, Indonesia, Romania, Kenya/Somalia and Cambodia also with tours in Washington. I have two children and one grandchild (and hoping for more).
