QUESTIONS

Fairfield University has adopted a test optional process for undergraduate admission. As you consider your response, please keep in mind that a Fairfield education is a holistic one, which addresses a student's development inside and outside of the classroom. Our goal is to enroll students who embrace this philosophy and will actively seek ways to take advantage of the many opportunities offered at Fairfield. Your response to this question should be approximately 250-500 words.

1. What personal or academic attribute distinguishes you from your current classmates? How will you integrate that attribute into your college experience and contribute to the Fairfield University community?
2. Fairfield University offers an education that prepares students to lead an "inspired life." Please describe an academic experience that has inspired your personal growth outside the classroom.
3. St. Ignatius Loyola, founder of the Jesuit order, sent his colleagues out to spread their mission with the words "Go set the world aflame." How do you plan to use your college education to "set the world aflame"?
