

1979 Student Awards:

St. Ignatius Loyola Medal:
Thomas McLarney

The Alumni Association has named Thomas J. McLarney, of Wolcott, CT, as the 1979 winner of the St. Ignatius Loyola Medal and Award. The medal is presented annually to the graduating senior who maximizes his opportunities for intellectual and social growth. The medallist must demonstrate a high level of academic achievement. In addition, the winner must be an active participant in campus activities and demonstrate a leadership role in those organizations.

Student Achievement Award:
Anthony J. Pucillo

Anthony J. Pucillo, of Woodbridge, Connecticut, was chosen for this award for his many hours of assistance at Alumni Fund telethons. He is also the first student to join the Fairfield Fellows.

Student Achievement Award:
Stephen T. "Wheels" Paulone

Stephen Paulone of Waterbury, Connecticut, received an achievement award for his tireless efforts on behalf of the Fairfield University Student Association (F.U.S.A.) and the Student Entertainment Committee (S.E.C.).

Student Achievement Award:
R.M. "Doc" Dougherty

As editor of the student newspaper, The Fairfield Mirror, R.M. Dougherty of Washington, D.C., was cited for his professional journalism and accurate coverage of campus happenings. Expanded coverage and sound financial management of the newly incorporated and independent newspaper were cited as reasons for this award.

Student Achievement Award:
James J. O'Shaughnessy

An achievement award for outstanding contribution to a campus organization was awarded to James J. O'Shaughnessy for his work on the Student Court. As a member of the court and later as its chief justice, he demonstrated a high level of maturity and sound judgment in dealing with court cases.
