

John Lazlo

My Post-Grad Journey:

I am married and live in Hillsborough, CA. My son, Geoff, lives in Greenwich CT with his family. Upon graduation, I received an MBA in finance from NYU and completed my six year obligation with the US Army Reserve in Manhattan. I spent my 35 year career in high tech finance either as an equity analyst or investment banker. As an analyst, I was a nine time member of the Institutional Investor All American Research Team. As a banker, I executed numerous equity deals principally for Silicon Valley based companies. During these periods I worked for Citibank, Hambrecht & Quist, Morgan Stanley and UBS Paine Webber. In retirement I play golf, hike, cycle and swim. I subscribe and volunteer for the San Francisco Symphony and Smuin Ballet, and frequent cinema and opera. I also travel extensively in the Americas, Europe and Asia Pacific. Next trip is to the Balkan States and Russia followed by Egypt.

What is your favorite Fairfield University memory?

I have many memories including the comradery with my classmates, exciting basketball games and the excellent education. My favorite professors include Father Costello, Paul Davis and James Shields.