Dear Counselor Education Graduate Students:

The clinical component (practicum and internship) of our graduate programs in counseling provides each student with a sequential, supervised experience as a counselor. This experience, which conforms to all Council for the Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP) standards, gives the counseling student the opportunity to gain proficiency with therapeutic skills and interventions.

This manual outlines the clinical requirements for counselor education students at Fairfield University. As such, this document represents an invaluable resource that can be used to guide your clinical experience within the program.

MISSION STATEMENT

The Counselor Education Department faculty members acknowledge our obligation as gatekeepers to students who will pursue professional preparation as clinical mental health counselors or school counselors and to the larger public to be served by our graduates. In our role as gatekeepers, we value the need to create a climate of professional care and consistency from a compassionate, supportive view.

As a program within a Jesuit community, we maintain a primary focus on issues of social justice and the use of Ignatian pedagogy in our pursuit of academic, as well as clinical, excellence. We subscribe to a belief in the inherent worth and dignity of each person; to the need to develop throughout the lifespan a greater sense of self-realization; to a commitment to serving a diverse society; to a commitment of service to others both for the prevention and remediation of life's problems; and to the pursuit of the highest standards of excellence in the counseling profession.

Fairfield University is located in Fairfield County, Connecticut, a county comprised of diverse communities that span urban, suburban, and rural constituencies, and include neighborhoods of tremendous affluence as well as intense poverty. Our student population consists primarily of individuals residing in the local suburban communities that our diverse location includes. We are committed to training our students to meet the needs of these diverse communities by including experiences throughout their training that provide exposure to a variety of settings. Within these experiences we provide students with support and opportunities for challenges that encourage them to become reflective and critical practitioners as they work with individuals in the pursuit of increased self-awareness and well-being.

DISPOSITION STATEMENT

The Counselor Education programs in School and Clinical Mental Health Counseling (CMHC) at Fairfield University align with the humanistic narrative; a narrative that recognizes the major role that the counselor-client relationship plays in promoting therapeutic change. As such, the program faculty emphasize interpersonal learning as a core competency, along with academic and clinical skill competencies.

Central to the mission of the Graduate School of Education and Allied Professions (GSEAP) are the personal and professional qualities and characteristics of students who aspire to be practicing school and clinical mental health counselors. Therefore, the Counselor Education Department reviews students' professional dispositions during the application process, in all courses, and in practicum and internship experiences. Faculty factor students' professional dispositions into the awarding of final grades, as noted in all syllabi.

As gatekeepers for the counseling profession, the Counselor Education faculty have adapted items from the Evaluation of Counselor Behavior Checklist to assess counseling students' proficiencies in

- recognizing defensive behavior
- accepting and applying feedback from instructors and supervisors
- exhibiting a balance between self-assurance and awareness of the need for supervision
- recognizing personal feelings while handling them appropriately

- demonstrating awareness about how one's behavior impacts others
- communicating responsibility for self and
- behaving in an ethical manner

WHAT IS CLINICAL INSTRUCTION?

Clinical instruction includes those training and educational experiences related directly to the practice of counseling, including the mastery of specific skills. At Fairfield, we have designed our clinical training sequence in accordance with the CACREP standards. As such, counseling students will receive clinical training via a sequence of coursework designed to gradually expose them to increasingly independent experiences in the application of clinical skills.

Because the mastery of clinical expertise is considered essential to the development of any professional counselor, high standards of performance and professional behavior are expected and adhered to. Students are required to complete each of the clinical training courses with a grade of B or better in order to advance to the next clinical course. There are no exceptions to this requirement.

The clinical course sequence includes:

Counseling Relationships and Skills	(CN 553)
Counseling Practicum	(CN 558)
Internship	(CN 590)

During either the first or second semester of graduate study, students will need to enroll in Counseling Relationships and Skills (CN 553). The primary focus of this course involves the teaching and practice of specific counseling skills and interventions. Students will learn these skills within the context of a small class, and will practice them with each other. Upon successful completion of this course and all prerequisites, students will be permitted to enroll in Counseling Practicum (CN 558).

CACREP requires students to complete a supervised practicum that totals a minimum of 100 clock hours. These 100 hours of supervised experience will take place within either a school or community setting. Of the total 100 clock hours, forty (40) must qualify as direct service hours. These 40 hours must involve direct intervention with clients in either a group or individual setting. In addition, one hour of individual supervision, and two hours of group supervision will be provided weekly. Students are required to audio/video record their sessions with clients for use during supervision. Upon successful completion of practicum, students will be permitted to enroll in Internship (CN 590).

The CACREP standards require students to complete an internship of 600 clock hours. Two hundred and forty (240) of these 600 hours must be “direct service” hours. The remainder can include participation in professional activities such as record keeping, supervision, information gathering, making referrals, in service training, and staff meetings. Students must have the opportunity to audio/video record counseling sessions for use in supervision.

In addition to meeting the CACREP standards, the program at Fairfield meets the Connecticut State Department of Education regulations for school counselor certification.

Connecticut currently requires that school counselors, who have not completed at least three years of public school teaching as a certified teacher, complete a 700 hour, 10-month supervised school internship. This clinical experience should include counseling students, consulting with parents and staff, conducting classroom guidance instruction, developing curriculum, and other professional activities.

EVALUATION OF CLINICAL TRAINING

Regardless of previous experience and/or coursework, the Counselor Education Department requires that all of our students complete all of the clinical courses at Fairfield University. Therefore, waivers and transfer credits are not available for any of the courses within the clinical training sequence.

In addition, students will be required to receive a grade of B or better in order to move into subsequent levels of clinical training. Personal and professional competencies are evaluated at each transition point in the clinical training. Interpersonal skills are critical for success in clinical training.

Finally, within each of the clinical courses, requirements will be described and evaluation procedures will be explained. Students are required to meet minimum expectations and evaluation will be ongoing in order to maintain clear communication.

COUNSELING RELATIONSHIPS AND SKILLS

Counseling Relationships and Skills (CN 553) is the initial clinical instruction course. Individuals must take this course in the first or second semester of enrollment.

This course is designed as an introductory course in basic counseling skills with various interpersonal communication and assessment techniques included. Application of these skills to the counseling process is emphasized. The course employs the use of real plays, video/audio recording, and observation. Evaluation is based on demonstration of basic counseling skills including personalization skills.

COUNSELING PRACTICUM

Counseling Practicum (CN 558) represents the first field experience for students within the Counselor Education program. Students are required to complete 100 clock hours of supervised clinical experience in either a school or community setting during one academic semester. Of these 100 hours, 40 must be considered “direct service”. Direct service hours refer to those hours spent in direct contact with clients, either individually or in a group setting. One hundred hours translates to approximately 1.5 to 2 days per week on site throughout the course of an academic semester. Most students arrange to be on site at least 2 days per week in order to insure that their direct service hours can be met. It is important to plan ahead. Many sites will not allow new practicum students to see clients during the initial phases of practicum. It is therefore essential that you plan your time accordingly.

Counseling Practicum is a 3-credit course.

It is also important for students to insure that all prerequisite courses have been completed.

PRIOR TO ENROLLMENT IN PRACTICUM CLASS

Prior to enrollment in practicum, students must follow the procedure below:

1. Complete the online practicum application in its entirety and submit it to the Clinical Coordinator by the third Monday in September for spring enrollment and the fourth Monday in January for fall enrollment. Applications received after this date will not be considered.
3. Faculty will review applications received and will notify students in writing as to the decision regarding registration for practicum.
4. If permission is granted to register for practicum, you MUST meet with the Clinical Coordinator or Director of Clinical Training PRIOR to making any arrangements regarding a practicum placement. During this meeting you will complete the SECURING A PRACTICUM/ INTERNSHIP SITE FORM.
5. The Practicum/Internship Agreement Form (sometimes referred to as “the contract”) and proof of liability insurance must be submitted to the Clinical Coordinator by the first Monday in April for fall enrollment and by the third Monday in November for spring enrollment.

SECURING A PRACTICUM SITE

Securing a site for your practicum experience should be a collaborative effort. You are required to meet with the Clinical Coordinator or Director of Clinical Training during the semester prior to enrollment in practicum. During this meeting, they will make every effort to assist you in mapping a plan for securing a site that will fit your professional goals and circumstances. After meeting with you, the Clinical Coordinator and/or Director of Clinical Training will contact prospective sites to make sure a space is available. The Clinical Coordinator will then contact you and ask that you schedule an interview with the potential site. You must notify the Clinical Coordinator or Director of Clinical Training when you have secured a site. It is your responsibility to obtain a signed contract (practicum/internship agreement) from the assigned site supervisor or director.

DURING PRACTICUM CLASS

Practicum requires a great deal of organization. There are numerous requirements in the form of paperwork throughout the semester. Some of these requirements are as follows:

Weekly:

1. Complete and turn in during practicum class: Practicum Weekly Activity Log.
2. Complete and turn in during practicum class: All Counseling Session Progress Notes (both individual and group).
3. Turn in required audio/video recordings
4. Schedule weekly appointments with individual campus supervisor (don't forget to bring required audio/video recordings and recorder).

Additional Forms: For Recording

1. Permission for Audio/Video Recording: distributed and signed by each client prior to the beginning of counseling.
2. Permission to counsel from parents: to be signed by the parent/s of clients under the age of 16.

End of Semester:

1. Practicum/Internship Semester Summary Form: to be handed in during the last practicum class
2. Practicum/Internship Site Evaluation Form
3. Student Evaluation of On-campus Supervision
4. Student Evaluation of Site Supervision

PRACTICUM ROLES/RESPONSIBILITIES

Practicum involves the collaboration of a number of professionals in order to ensure a meaningful educational experience for the counseling students. The student, instructor, on-campus supervisor, and on-site supervisor must each play a role in creating this experience. Listed below are the role/responsibilities of each of these individuals as described by CACREP and endorsed by the Fairfield University faculty.

The Student:

The role of practicum students is to engage in an on-site clinical experience that results in the development and enhancement of their skills as a professional counselor. It is expected that students will behave in a professional manner and will abide by the American Counseling Association's Code of Ethics, and/or the American School Counselor Association's Ethical Standards for School Counselors, at all times.

Student's Responsibilities:

1. To commit 100 clock hours to a site, including 40 hours spent in direct service. Direct service hours are those in which the student is offering either individual, family, or group counseling to clients. Students must lead or co-lead a counseling or psychoeducation group during practicum or internship. You must meet with at least two-three clients for a minimum of five or more consecutive sessions. These should be recorded. The 60 hours that can be devoted to indirect service include all other relevant professional activities on-site, including listening to recordings and record-keeping. Examples of appropriate activity are: in-service training, participation in staff meetings, educational activities on site, preventive interventions, consultation, observation, supervision, readings etc.
2. To arrange a weekly, one-hour supervision schedule with the on-site supervisor that meets the needs of both the student and the site. (In school settings this may consist of two 20 minute sessions).
3. To audio record (or video record) the direct service hours for the purpose of supervision. With few exceptions, all sessions should be recorded. Recordings should be a minimum of 20 minutes. Recording is for your benefit and most importantly for the client's benefit. It is your ethical responsibility to provide quality care to ALL clients. Recording each session will help you meet your ethical obligations as a counselor.
4. To attend weekly supervision sessions with the on-campus supervisor.
5. To attend the weekly practicum class that provides group supervision on campus.
6. To write case notes on all clients and complete all other paperwork connected to practicum.
7. To meet all other course requirements.
8. To meet any additional requirements as determined by the site supervisor.

The Clinical Coordinator:

The role of the Clinical Coordinator is to facilitate field placements and assist in communication among students, site supervisors, on-campus supervisors, and on-site supervisors.

Clinical Coordinator's Responsibilities:

1. To meet with practicum students during the semester prior to their enrollment in the practicum course.
2. To investigate all potential sites to determine their appropriateness for practicum.
3. To make site visits as necessary and/or feasible.
4. To follow up with any special circumstances regarding practicum sites and/or students. To make necessary communications to the practicum instructor regarding such circumstances.

Practicum Instructor:

The role of the practicum instructor is to facilitate the group supervision component of the practicum experience. Students must be enrolled in the practicum class, which will be led by the instructor. The instructor will have ultimate responsibility for assigning the practicum grade (in collaboration with the site supervisor and the on-campus supervisor).

Practicum Instructor's Responsibilities:

1. To conduct weekly group supervision during practicum class on campus.
2. To offer the student individual supervision of recorded counseling sessions.
3. To communicate with the site supervisor regarding the clinical ability of the student as determined through supervision. Site visits with the Clinical Coordinator may occur.
4. To read all case notes turned in by the student.
5. To keep all records of all practicum activity engaged in by the student.
6. To seek evaluation from the site and individual on-campus supervisor.
7. To assign a grade at the end of the semester based on the student's performance.
8. To provide on-call emergency supervision.

Site Supervisor:

The role of the site supervisor is to provide on-site supervision and coordination for the practicum student.

Site Supervisor's Responsibilities:

1. To organize the practicum experience and assure that the student will have an opportunity to work with appropriate clients.
2. To help orient the student to the site.
3. To provide appropriate space for the student to meet with clients.
4. To monitor the practicum generally in order to determine that the student's needs and the client's needs are being met.
5. To provide weekly one-hour supervision to ensure that the student is successfully implementing the site's case management practices.
6. To provide the faculty supervisor with evaluation of the student's overall performance and professionalism during the practicum.
7. To be available to the student in case of emergency.
8. To provide any additional supervision for reasons of necessity or preference. (In other words, the university faculty welcomes the site supervisor's involvement in supervision beyond the minimum expectations listed above.)

OTHER INFORMATION REGARDING PRACTICUM

1. Site Visits/Communication with Site: Prior to the student starting at the site, an email/telephone contact is initiated by the Clinical Coordinator or Director of Clinical Training. At this time, requirements for the course and the site supervisor's role are reviewed. Site visits are conducted within the department on an ongoing basis and/or when circumstances warrant such a visit.
2. Practicum Agreement Form: A Practicum Agreement Form (sometimes referred to as “the contract”) is required prior to all practicum placements. Students are responsible for collecting signatures and insuring that the Agreement Form is submitted by the dates indicated within the Student Handbook (by the third Monday in November for students enrolling in practicum for the spring semester and by the first Monday in April for students enrolling in practicum for the fall semester).
3. Audio Recording: Audio recording of sessions with clients is mandatory in practicum. The use of recordings within the supervision process is ongoing and comprises the main vehicle for supervision. Please make sure before you finalize site choices that audio recording is permitted and supported. You must be able to play your recordings in supervision. Digital recorders with speakers provide the best clarity. You must provide an encrypted flash drive with the downloaded file for your supervisor each week. Make sure you purchase a unit with a speaker and USB connection so that you can re-play the recording in your supervision sessions. It is the student's responsibility to insure that recordings can be easily heard by supervisors.

4. Practicum is not offered during the summer. This is due to the fact that acquiring the specified hours, as well as ensuring a beneficial learning experience is difficult within such a shortened time span.
5. General Criteria for Appropriate Practicum Sites
 - a. Site must have a credentialed supervisor with an advanced degree in counseling or a related field who has been in the field for a minimum of two years and who will assume responsibility as the site supervisor. For school counseling practicum students, the site must have a certified school counselor on staff who will assume responsibility as site supervisor. Site supervisors must be on site when student is on site.
 - b. The site must provide ongoing weekly supervision.
 - c. Site must have a steady supply of clients who will be referred to the practicum student.
 - d. Site must provide counseling space most of the time for the student to use for purposes of confidentiality.
 - e. Site must provide a quality and age of client that matches the practicum student's training and orientation.
 - f. Practicum student must be able to accumulate 40 hours of direct client contact over the span of one academic semester. Students must lead or co-lead a counseling or psychoeducation group in practicum or internship.
 - g. Practicum student must be able to record sessions for clinical supervision purposes.

INTERNSHIP

Internship (CN 590) represents the culminating field experience for students within the Counselor Education program. According to the CACREP standards, students are required to complete 600 clock hours of supervised clinical experience in either a school or community setting. Of these 600 hours, 240 must be direct service. Direct service hours refer to those hours spent in direct contact with clients, either individually or in a group setting. Six hundred hours translates to 2 to 3 days on site throughout the course during two academic semesters. Each semester consists of 300 hours with 120 direct hours.

The number of credits granted for internship varies according to the number of hours a student chooses to commit to this experience. Students who work part time at their internship site (20 hours/week) will earn 3 credits.

In addition to the CACREP requirements, the CT State Department of Education mandates that individuals seeking certification as a school counselor complete a 700-hour, 10-month internship experience unless they hold state certification as an educator and have completed 30 months (three years) employed under that certification within a public school.

SECURING AN INTERNSHIP SITE

Securing a site for your internship experience should also be a collaborative effort. Consultation with the Clinical Coordinator or Director of Clinical Training during the semester prior to enrollment in internship is required. During this time, they will make every effort to assist you in mapping a plan for securing a site that will fit your professional goals and circumstances.

Once you have identified an appropriate internship site, the Clinical Coordinator and Director of Clinical Training will contact the site to verify there is a space. You can then set up an interview with the site. A Practicum/Internship Agreement Form is required for this placement, even if you are continuing from practicum.

DURING INTERNSHIP CLASS

Weekly:

1. Complete and turn in during internship class: Internship Weekly Activity Log.
2. Turn in required audio recordings (a minimum of three recordings per semester).

Additional Forms:

1. Permission for Audio/Video Recording: distributed and signed by each client prior to the beginning of counseling.
2. Permission to counsel from parents: to be signed by the parent/s of clients under the age of 16.

End of Semester:

5. Practicum/Internship Semester Summary Form: to be handed in during the last practicum class
6. Practicum/Internship Site Evaluation Form

INTERNSHIP ROLES/RESPONSIBILITIES

Internship involves the collaboration of a number of professionals in order to insure a meaningful educational experience for the counseling students. The student, instructor, and on-site supervisor must each play a role in creating this experience. Listed below are the role/responsibilities of each of these individuals as described by CACREP and endorsed by the Fairfield University faculty.

The Student:

The role of internship students is to engage in an on-site clinical experience that results in the development and enhancement of professional counseling skills. It is expected that students will behave in a professional manner and will abide by the American Counseling Association's Code of Ethics and/or the American School Counselor Association's Ethical Standards for School Counselors, if applicable, at all times. Students must be considerate of the demands on the site supervisor and accommodate the needs of the site as well as their learning needs.

Student's Responsibilities:

To commit 600 hours to a site, including 240 hours spent in direct service. All other internship hours will involve relevant professional activity including in-service training, participation in staff meetings, individual and group supervision, participate in classroom instruction or psychoeducation workshop, etc. Currently, most schools are not offering this opportunity. However, observations of classroom or group work will be conducted by the instructor.

1. To meet all the requirements of the site supervisor for the purpose of supervision, e.g., completing case notes, audio recording, etc.
2. To attend weekly group supervision class on campus.
3. To meet all course requirements, including keeping all records of internship activity accurate and up to date.
4. To meet all other additional requirements of the site.

The Clinical Coordinator:

The role of the Clinical Coordinator is to facilitate field placements and assist in communication among students, site supervisors, and faculty.

Clinical Coordinator's Responsibilities:

5. To meet with internship students during the semester prior to their enrollment in the internship course.
6. To make site visits as necessary and/or feasible.
7. To follow up with any special circumstances regarding internship sites and/or students. To make necessary communications to the internship instructor regarding such circumstances.

The Faculty Supervisor:

The role of the faculty supervisor during internship is to coordinate the internship class (the group supervision portion of the internship experience). In addition, the faculty supervisor maintains communication between the university and site supervisors.

Faculty Supervisor's Responsibilities:

1. To visit the internship site and meet with site supervisors as necessary. To observe school counseling interns delivering a developmental guidance lesson.
2. To conduct weekly group supervision class on campus.
3. To keep records of the student's internship activity safely secure.
4. To seek evaluation of the student from the site supervisor.
5. To be available to the site supervisor should supervision difficulties arise.
6. To assign a grade at the end of the internship experience.

The Site Supervisor:

The role of the site supervisor is to provide the on-site portion of the supervision to the student during the internship experience. This is a voluntary position. Students must be considerate of the time and effort provided by supervisors.

Site Supervisor's Responsibilities:

1. To organize the internship experience and assure that the student will have an opportunity to engage in individual and group counseling, as well as other appropriate professional activities.
2. To orient the student to the site.

3. To provide appropriate space for the student to meet with clients and engage in other professional activities.
4. To meet with the student for a minimum of one hour per week for purposes of individual supervision.
5. To provide the faculty supervisor with evaluation of the student's overall performance and professionalism during the internship.
6. To be available to the student in case of emergency.

GUIDELINES FOR COUNTING CLINICAL HOURS

Counselors must complete on a weekly basis, the Practicum /Internship Activity Log and have it signed by their site supervisor. Guidelines:

1. Direct, face-to-face clinical contact with individuals, families, or groups counts toward the 40 hour clinical requirement for practicum and 240 hour clinical requirement for internship.
2. An hour of client contact equals 45-50 minutes. If the session is longer, count each hour rounding to the nearest quarter hour. School counseling majors can count each individual counseling contact as a session but since sessions in schools often last 15-20 minutes, it may require that the counselor have two-three sessions before it equals an hour. In practicum, case notes are required for every session that is being counted toward clinical hours.
3. Activities such as telephone contact are not considered direct client contact unless the contact lasts for 20 minutes or more. For those students who are working on a hotline as part of their training, you may count two hours per week as "contact with clients other than counseling."
4. Consultation is a formal activity that is scheduled and not something that is done in passing. However, consultation with supervisors other than the site supervisor and other behavior health professionals can count as direct hours. Please confirm with instructor.
5. Guidance activities are classroom presentations of developmental guidance programs. For clinical mental health majors, interventions are psychoeducational in nature. A record of these activities is listed on the Activity Log under the section "notes on any of the above."
6. Contact with clients other than counseling includes any activity that involves working with a client but is not counseling per se. Examples of such contact would include attending court with a client, or attending a PPT meeting.
7. Staff meetings that you attend at your agency or school can be included in indirect service hours. Report writing, listening to recordings, and other administrative duties is considered indirect.
8. Professional development includes attending workshops or other learning activities that enhance one's ability to provide service. Include a description of any workshop attended and list the names of any books or research that you completed to enable you to work with a particular issue.
9. Each time that you meet with your individual supervisor on campus (practicum), you are allowed to list that as supervision. Each practicum or internship class that you attend counts for two hours of supervision. During internship, the supervision is completed on the site and you are allowed to count one hour as "other supervision."

RECORD KEEPING (revised 2018)

Students are responsible for maintaining professional, complete, and up-to-date files on each of their clients. Site supervisors will inform students of the record keeping policies required by their respective agency or school and educate students in the fulfillment of these obligations and check compliance.

INDIVIDUAL COUNSELING PROGRESS NOTES are submitted by practicum students on a weekly basis to the practicum instructor. These notes should be completed as soon as possible after the session, especially if you do not have a recording of the session. Below are some suggestions for completing individual progress notes.

1. Briefly describe the client's presenting problem. What were your objectives for this session? For first session notes, describe what the client states is the problem. For subsequent sessions, refer to Question #5 on the progress notes that asks you to record the objectives for the next session.
2. Describe the dynamics in the session (question #5). For this question, the student is being asked to reflect on what she/he was feeling as she/he worked with this particular client. This is about you and your reactions.
3. Describe other important information that was learned during the session, including contextual information. Summarize the key issues discussed during the session. In this section, record any information that the counselor learned that may be relevant and helpful in working with the client. For subsequent sessions, the student summarizes what was discussed. This is a succinct, precise description of the topics covered during the session.
4. Describe the relevant cultural or developmental information as it relates to the presenting problem/session. Consider the developmental issues and cultural context of the problem/session.
5. What is your initial conceptualization of the client's issues? This is the counselor's hypothesis about the nature of the problem(s) that the client faces. The counselor's theory of change will impact the decisions made about treatment at this point. For subsequent sessions, the conceptualization is addressed in Question #4 and the counselor is to consider any changes in the hypothesis about the problem/concern.
6. List relevant diagnostic impression including code and axis. (#4)
Using the DSM-V, the student is to use the information gained in the interview and suggest a tentative diagnosis on all five axis.
7. Treatment plan. For this question, the counselor delineates the presenting problem(s) and the intervention strategies to be used in reaching the goal. Throughout treatment, this section is updated to reflect any major change of problem, goal, objective, or intervention.

COUNSELOR EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

PROTOCOL FOR RESOLVING ISSUES OCCURRING ON SITE FOR PRACTICUM AND INTERNSHIP STUDENTS

Policy: This document represents a process for the Counselor Education department designed to resolve issues that occur at students' practicum and/or internship sites. This protocol is a guide for ethical practice and is flexible to address the individual issues that may occur. As we know, "issues" occur on sites on a weekly basis. It is expected that instructors, site supervisors, and the clinical coordinator will use their professional judgment, and educational and professional backgrounds and experiences in determining which issues might warrant the use of this protocol, as it would be untenable to deal with every clinical issue in this manner. This protocol should be reserved for use in situations that are serious in nature and/or if prior attempts to resolve an issue have failed. Faculty, sites supervisors or the clinical coordinator should seek consultation at any time if an issue arises that may not be considered serious, but is troubling to any of the supervising professionals.

Supervising Professionals:

Course Instructor:	Practicum or internship faculty member running respective class
Clinical Coordinator:	Coordinator of clinical placements
Director of Clinical Training:	Faculty member supervising clinical curriculum and training for practicum and internship
Site Supervisor:	The onsite supervisor for practicum and internship students
Student:	Student enrolled in practicum or internship
Department Chairperson:	Faculty with administrative responsibility for the department

If at any time a site supervisor has a concern about a student's clinical performance, professional behavior, or a serious event occurs including the student that is beyond the bounds of a particular site's regular practice and/or brings the site supervisor to seek consultation, they should contact the Clinical Coordinator.

Faculty should follow the process below: First contact the Clinical Coordinator. If unavailable, then contact the Director of Clinical Training. They should be reached directly.

For serious incidents occurring on clinical site:

1. The site supervisor should first utilize consultation on site to assure safety of the student, client(s), and anyone else directly involved, especially following a serious event.
2. The site supervisor, with the knowledge of the student, contacts first the Clinical Coordinator (if unavailable, then the Director of Clinical Training) within 24 hours of the incident. The Clinical Coordinator or Director of Clinical Training will inform the instructor.
3. The Clinical Coordinator consults with the site supervisor and the student to assess the situation before other action is taken. If the student's performance on site or their professional behavior is the focus, a preliminary meeting with the instructor and Clinical Coordinator may precede meeting with the student to develop a mutual approach for remediation and commitment from site toward this end.
4. The Clinical Coordinator keeps the instructor and site supervisor apprised of what is occurring at all times as the resolution process proceeds, with any direction in terms of if/how the situation may be addressed in class (as a learning opportunity) before the next class time occurs. The instructor in turn relates any relevant discussion during class to Clinical Coordinator. This communication is critical as the site supervisor bears primary responsibility for the student on site, and the instructor is ultimately responsible for the evaluation of the student's clinical training.

For concerns related during class time:

1. If the instructor has a concern about the student's performance on the site or their professional behavior, or the student has shared concerns about site supervision that are serious in nature, the instructor should seek consultation with the Clinical Coordinator or Director of Clinical Training.
2. In the event that the incident is reported after hours, the instructor should first contact the Clinical Coordinator, the Director of Clinical Training, or the Department Chairperson.
3. If, as a result of this consultation, the instructor decides that contact should be made with the site supervisor, this information should be given to the Clinical Coordinator (if he/she has not been included within the process up to this point). Contact should not be made with the site until the Clinical Coordinator is contacted and informed. In the event that the Clinical Coordinator or Director of Clinical Training is not available, the Department Chairperson should be notified and informed who identifies the person who will act on the part of the clinical program. Whoever is contacted will share the incident/concern with site supervisor.
4. Any contact with site supervisors and/or with other administrators on campus should be made only after these consultations have occurred. The Department Chairperson is the liaison between the department and the administration.

Consultation can result in changes at or on the site or removal of the student from the site. The focus of the resolution process should be first on safety and well-being of those involved, and then on learning and growth for the student that can come from such incidents. Removal of a student implies either or both of the above are not possible or an ethical issue dictates a stronger response.
