Center for Social Impact COVID-19 Resources for Community Partners

COVID 19 Response: Community Partner Survey

Dear Partners,

During this challenging time, the Fairfield University Center for Social Impact and the Sacred Heart University Office of Volunteer Programs and Service Learning are committed to supporting our community partners. We hope that in the weeks and months ahead, our institutions can act as partners and allies to you as we all cope with the COVID-19 crisis and its aftermath.

Use the form below to identify ways that the Fairfield University and Sacred Heart University communities can partner with your organization/agency and the communities you serve, both in the short term, to manage the crisis, and in the long term, to support recovery efforts.

We will not be able to fulfill all requests. However, we are committed to doing our best to leverage resources, make connections, and advocate for the needs of our partners. We understand that your organizations and the community members you serve are likely experiencing acute emergencies and severe disruptions at this time. We will keep this survey open through the summer of 2020. Partner organizations can submit multiple survey responses as circumstances change and the COVID crisis evolves.

Fairfield University's Center for Social Impact and Sacred Heart University's Office of Volunteer Programs and Service Learning work across the schools and departments at our institutions. Our faculty have varied expertise in Business, Engineering, Nursing and the Health Professions, Education, Social Work, Communications, and the Arts and Sciences. Our Centers connect community and campus through course work, research, internships, work-study, and volunteerism. Support could include volunteers (virtual or in-person when it is safe to do so), research/evaluation support, or could connect to varied academic areas such as public health, accounting/finance, engineering/technology, marketing/media, education, or the arts and humanities.

If you have pressing questions or concerns, or would like to brainstorm ideas for collaboration, please do not hesitate to reach out to staff in Fairfield University's Center for Social Impact: socialimpact@fairfield.edu and/or Sacred Heart University's Office of Volunteer Programs and Service Learning: volunteer_programs@sacredheart.edu.
