INTERNSHIP HOUSING at FAIRFIELD UNIVERSITY

2015 • MAY 30 - AUGUST 8
Fairfield University, a Jesuit institution centrally located on the Connecticut shoreline, is an ideal place for undergraduate and graduate students to live while interning or working during the summer. The campus is within one mile of I-95 and the Fairfield Metro-North station, making it an easy commute to many locations like Norwalk, Stamford, and New Haven. On weekends, students can enjoy Fairfield's beautiful campus, or spend time at the beach, which is only two miles south of the University. Summer residents can also take advantage of being just an hour away from New York City via public transportation or take weekend trips to Boston, Newport, and many other celebrated New England cities and towns.

Housing and Amenities

Summer residents at Fairfield University are offered single bedrooms in shared apartments that can accommodate 4-8 students. Some of the many amenities include:

- Air-conditioned, furnished accommodations with kitchens
- Morning and evening shuttle service to the Fairfield Metro-North train station
- 24-hour on-call support and security
- Cable television access with HBO
- Wireless and wired internet access
- Free parking permit
- Social activities at The Levee, the on-campus pub
- Free laundry facilities

All living rooms come furnished with a couch, coffee table, kitchen table, and chairs. Kitchens are equipped with a full-size refrigerator and oven. Kitchen supply packs and televisions are available to rent at an additional cost.

Eligibility

To be eligible for internship housing, students must be either an undergraduate or graduate student at a university with an internship or job for the summer months. Proof of employment and student enrollment is required to confirm summer housing.

Availability

Housing is offered on a weekly basis starting Saturday, May 30, 2015 and ending Saturday, August 8, 2015. To be eligible, a minimum of four consecutive weeks must be reserved.

Costs

Housing is offered for $325 per week. This includes all utilities, air-conditioning, cable/internet, and unlimited laundry. It also includes morning and evening shuttle service to the Fairfield train station. There is a refundable security deposit of $250. All payments must be received two weeks prior to arrival.

Students bringing a car to campus must register their vehicle with the Department of Public Safety to receive a parking permit.

Application

To apply to live on campus over the summer or for additional information, visit the Summer Housing website located at www.fairfield.edu/summerhousing. Housing is filled on a first-come, first-served basis.

The priority deadline for summer housing is Monday, April 27, 2015.
WELCOME TO FAIRFIELD, CONNECTICUT!

Fairfield University’s scenic 200-acre campus is located in the historic coastal community of Fairfield. With a suburban population of nearly 57,000, the town of Fairfield has a thriving downtown area just one mile from campus. The town offers Fairfield summer residents many retail stores, restaurants, entertainment venues and five miles of Long Island Sound coastline.

Stores include popular chains such as Banana Republic and The Loft, along with smaller clothing boutiques like Capri and Cargo Bay. Don’t miss our Fairfield University Bookstore at 1499 Post Road where there are books, gifts, apparel, lectures and music presentations, and a Starbucks serving delicious coffees and snacks!

A Metro-North railroad station, also located downtown, provides convenient transportation south to New York City, a little over one hour away, and north to New Haven, about 30 minutes away.

Summer residents at Fairfield University can take advantage of easy access to the train station, downtown area, and the beach!
